Notes on Execution of the Contract

1. Scope of application

- (1) The purpose of the Premises as stated in the Sample Residential Lease Contract shall be for residential use by the Lessee, and this Sample Contract shall be served as a reference for the Lessor and the Lessee to execute their residential lease Contract (hereinafter referred to as this Contract).
- (2) According to Letter No. Yuan-Tai-Xiao-Bao-Zi-[1050165274] dated May 30, 2016 issued by the Department of Consumer Protection of the Executive Yuan, “repetitive rather than occasional leasing as business behavior, whether by a company, group, or an individual and whether or not the operation is legally registered or licensed with an administrative body, shall be considered business operation.” In relation to the Lessor’s leasing of the Premises to the Lessee for residential purpose, if such behavior meets the above criterion, a consumption relationship is shaped up between the Lessor and the Lessee, and the Consumer Protection Act shall apply.

2. Rights to review the Contract

If the Lessor is a business entity, a reasonable period of up to 30 days shall be given to the Lessee to review all of the terms and conditions of the Contract before entering into a standard form of Contract with the Lessor. In order for the Lessee to have sufficient and reasonable time to review the terms and conditions of the Contract in detail, at least three days shall be given to the Lessee for review of the Contract.

In the event that the provision of the review period as set forth in the preceding paragraph is not established when a standard form of Contract is executed by and between the Lessor and the Lessee, it does not constitute part of the Contract; nevertheless, the Lessee may suggest to include such terms in the contents of the Contract (Paragraphs 1 to 3 of Article 11-1 of the Consumer Protection Act).

3. Definition of lease

“A lease is a contract whereby the parties agree that one of them shall let the other party use a thing or collect profits therefrom and the latter shall pay a rent for it” (Article 421 of the Civil Code). A lease Contract shall become effective when both parties agree on the leasing object and the rent. To help the parties hereto clearly understand their own stance and mutual relationship in terms of rights and obligations, the party who pays the rent is referred to as “the Lessee”, and the party who delivers the premises for lease is referred to as “the Lessor”.

4. Leased premises

- (1) The Premises shall be the building leased out for residential use, not limited to legal buildings.
- (2) In regards to the scope of the leased residence, the records in the register shall prevail for registered Premises; the house tax certificate or actual survey results shall prevail for unregistered Premises.
- (3) Where the scope of the lease is not the whole of the Premises (for example, only suites or bedrooms on some of the floors are leased), the Lessor shall prepare a “Location and Layout Sketch of the Premises” where the leased scope shall be indicated to verify the actual leased location or scope of the Premises.
- (4) To avoid any differences in perception between the Parties in regard to the existence of any unregistered alterations, extensions, additions, and illegal constructions, or inclusion of other auxiliary equipment such as air conditioner, furniture, etc., the attached Attachment 1 “Confirmation of the current status of the Premises” of this Sample Contract may be used as a reference for verification by the Parties, thereby avoiding disputes.
- (5) When moving into the Premises, the Lessee may request the Lessor to conduct a joint inspection on the current condition of the Premises and equipment, while photos shall be taken for filing. For any auxiliary equipment, a list shall be made as a reference for restoring the original condition of the Premises upon the Lessee’s returning of the Premises.

5. The lease period and format of Contract

In order to facilitate the testification and safeguard the interests of the Parties to the Contract, the Parties thereto shall enter into a lease Contract in writing and specifically set out the lease period which shall not be less than 30 days. (Please refer to Paragraph 4, Article 4 of the Rental Housing Market Development and Regulation Act.)

6. Contract on and payment of rent

- (1) The rent shall be calculated on a monthly basis, and the number of months of rent, payment timing, and payment method for each instalment shall be agreed by the Parties to avoid disputes.
- (2) The Lessee shall pay rent according to the timing agreed. By no excuse can the Lessee delay or refuse any rent payment, whereas the Lessor shall not request any rent increase during the lease period for any reason.
- (3) The rent of rental housing is mutually agreed upon by the lessor and the lessee, and Article 97 of the Land Act is not applicable. (as provided in Article 6 of the Rental Housing Market Development and Regulation Act).

7. Contract on and refund of security deposit

- (1) The security deposit is the money prepaid to guarantee the coverage of the debt arising from the Contract by the Lessee, and is mainly used to guarantee compensations for the damage thereof and to handle the items left behind by the Lessee. The maximum amount of the security deposit shall not exceed the sum of two months' rent. The Lessee shall pay such security deposit to the Lessor upon execution of the Contract.
- (2) Upon expiry of the lease period or termination of the Contract, the Lessor shall refund the security deposit or the net deposit, after deduction of debts incurred arising from the Contract, to the Lessee.
- (3) Upon the payment of the security deposit or the rent by the Lessee, the Lessor shall issue to the Lessee a receipt or indicate the receipt of such payment from the Lessee on the copy of the Contract held by the Lessee. Where the payment is made via remittance by the Lessee, the Lessee shall retain the remittance receipt for reference. Similarly, when the Lessor returns the security deposit to the Lessee, the Lessee shall be required to issue a receipt or indicate the receipt of the refunded security deposit on the copy of the Contract held by the Lessor.

8. Contract on relevant charges during the lease period

- (1) In practice, there are various types of relevant charges that may be incurred in relation to the use of the Premises, such as charges for water, electricity, gas, internet, and management fees. In some Contracts, such charges are included in the rent, whereas others required such charges to be paid separately by the Lessee or jointly by the Parties. The Parties shall specify in the Contract in advance the amount of or the method of splitting such charges by each of the Parties, so as to avoid future disputes.
- (2) Where the scope of the lease is not the whole of the Premises (for example, only suites or bedrooms on some of the floors are leased), the parties shall specify in the Contract in advance the amount of or the method of splitting such relevant charges by each of the Parties and the payment method, based on the practical circumstances of the lease. For example, power consumption of the leased room can be calculated based on the actual kilowatt hour readings on a separate meter for the room, and according to the schedule of TaiPower Company. TaiPower Company charges on a progressive system of electricity brackets, differentiating seasonal schedules for summer months and non-summer months. Therefore, the agreed electricity charges shall not be more than the maximum unit price per kilowatt hour (/kWh) of the highest electricity bracket for the incurring month as set by TaiPower Company for summer and non-summer months. The summer months refer to the period from June 1 to September 30 each year, while the non-summer months refer to the time outside such range.

9. Restrictions on the use of the Premises

- (1) The Lessee shall use the Premises or collect profits therefrom in the method as agreed upon, and shall abide by the rights and obligations as provided in the condominium regulations or any other stipulations set for the residents thereto.
- (2) The Lessee shall not, unless otherwise permitted by the Lessor, sublease the Premises, in whole or in part, for use by any third party. Where the Lessor permits the Lessee to sublease the Premises, the Lessor shall issue a “Letter of Consent on the sublease scope, the sublease period, and causes for termination of this Contract” (as shown in Attachment 2) to the Lessee who then shall present to the sublessee such proof of consent from the Lessor, so as to avoid future disputes and protect the Lessor’s and the sublessee’s rights and interests. (Paragraphs 1 and 2, Article 9 of the Rental Housing Market Development and Regulation Act)
- (3) Where the Lessee subleases the Premises, in whole or in part, the Consumer Protection Act does not apply to the Lessee upon any disputes over the terms of the Contract or the lease, since the Lessee is not the ultimate consumer.
- (4) Residences leased with this Sample Contract shall not be used for business purpose; therefore, the Lessor may refuse a lessee who is registered as a company or business and the sales (tax) registration thereof.

10. Repairs and maintenance

- (1) Where there are any damages to the Premises or auxiliary equipment, the Lessor shall be liable for such repairs, unless otherwise agreed by the Parties, applicable to customary practices, or such damages are attributable to the Lessee. Where the Lessor shall conduct necessary repairs and maintenance of the Premises, the Lessee shall not refuse the Lessor’s requests.
- (2) The obligations of the Lessor concerning repairs and maintenance are to ensure that the Lessee can use the Premises or collect profits therefrom as agreed upon. If the Lessee adds anything to the Premises, the Lessor is not obliged to repair and maintain such additions (Reference to precedent of (63)-Tai-Shang-Zi No.[99] of the Supreme Court).
- (3) Where repairs and maintenance of the Premises and auxiliary equipment shall be borne by the Lessor, if the Lessor fails to repair such damages within time specified by the Lessee, the Lessee may carry out the repairs on one’s own and request the Lessor for reimbursement of the costs incurred or deduct the costs from the rent as provided under Article 3 of this Contract.
- (4) The Parties shall verify whether there are any seepage or leakage in the Premises prior to handover of the Premises to the Lessee. If there are any seepage or leakage, the Parties shall reach an Contract on the method to address this issue (such as repairs by the Lessor before handover of the Premises, handover of the Premises as is, rent reduction, or repairs by the Lessee).

11. Interior renovation

- (1) Where the Lessee requires interior renovation, approval shall be obtained from the Lessor and relevant regulations shall be observed to proceed with such renovation where no adverse effects shall be made to the structural safety of the original construction. Upon surrendering the Premises, the Lessee shall be liable for restoring the Premises back to their original condition, as agreed by the Parties to avoid disputes.
- (2) Where the Lessee's request for interior renovation is approved by the Lessor, the Lessee shall comply with relevant laws and regulations by entrusting an interior renovation company registered at and approved by the Ministry of the Interior. The so-called "relevant laws and regulations" include the Urban Planning Law, Fire Services Act, Building Act, etc. For example, carrying out an interior renovation of old Premises shall be handled in accordance with the provisions of Article 77-2 of the Building Act, while the following matters shall be observed:
 - ① The interior renovation of buildings for public use shall be reviewed and approved. However, the central competent authority shall be entitled to authorize the Association of Architects or other relevant professional technical organizations for such review and approval.
 - ② The construction materials shall meet the requirements of the Building Technical Regulations.
 - ③ The renovation shall not hinder or destroy fire refuge facilities, fire equipment, fire zoning, and main structures.
 - ④ The facilities for protecting people's privacy shall not be hindered or destroyed.
- (3) If any floor of a congregate residence, residence, or any residential unit (household) is divided into more than six occupancy units (excluding living rooms and dining rooms) or rooms that house more than ten beds, such use category belongs to H-1 group as specified in Article 2 of the "Methods for building usage groups and usage change", and the building falls into the so-called "buildings for public use" category in accordance with the Building Act. (Refer to the ordinance Tai-Nei-Ying-Zi-[1070803969] dated April 24, 2018 promulgated by the Ministry of the Interior.)

12. Arbitrary termination of this Contract

- (1) Where a definite lease period is set for a lease, the relationship between the Lessor and the Lessee shall cease to exist upon expiry of the lease period. Thus, when entering into the Contract, the Parties shall reach an Contract on whether early termination of the Contract during the lease period is allowed, as well as the liquidated damages therewith, so as to protect their own rights and interests.
- (2) With respect to a lease Contract with a definite lease period, if either party is allowed to prematurely terminate the Contract prior to the expiry of the lease period, the terminating party shall notify the other party in advance in accordance with Article 13 of this Sample Contract. Failure to notify the other party in advance as agreed while terminating the Contract straight, the terminating party shall compensate the other party liquidated damages in the amount up to one month's rent.
- (3) Notwithstanding the Contract of the Parties to forbid termination of the Contract, the Parties may still terminate the Contract if required by law or in case of de-facto incidents of the circumstances that allow termination of the Contract as set forth in Article 16 or 17 of this Sample Contract. Where no circumstances for termination of the Contract set forth in Article 16 or 17 of this Sample Contract are applicable, the Parties shall agree on the liquidated damages between themselves in the principle of contracting with free will.

13. Early termination of this Contract by the Lessor

In order to ensure the livability and safety of the Premises, when recovering the Premises for reconstruction, the Lessor shall, in accordance with Article 16 of the Sample Contract, notify the Lessee in writing and provide specific evidence three months before the termination of Contract (such as the demolition permit issued by the competent construction authority, or the proof of waiving the demolition permit as stipulated in Article 78 of the Building Act), so as to ensure the Lessee's residential rights and interests.

14. Early termination of this Contract by the Lessee

- (1) Where the Lessee is in need of long-term recuperation due to illness or accident, the Lessee shall be entitled to prematurely terminate the Contract in accordance with Paragraph 1 of Article 17 of the Sample Contract, provided the Lessee shall provide evidence (such as a diagnosis certificate issued by a registered medical institution proving that the Lessee requires more than six months of recuperation).
- (2) In accordance with the provisions of Article 6 of the Civil Code, if the Lessee passes away, the Lessee's successor shall be entitled to suggest early termination of the Contract in accordance with Paragraph 3, Article 17 of this Sample Contract, if the successor does not need to use the leased Premises.

- (3) Under the situation mentioned in Paragraph (2), the successor shall notify the Lessor in writing along with relevant evidence thirty day prior to the termination of the Contract.

15. Return of the Premises

- (1) When the Lessee returns the Premises, if there is a list of auxiliary equipment or photographs taken earlier for reference, the Parties shall jointly inspect the Premises and equipment, item by item, to complete the return of the Premises.
- (2) Upon returning the Premises, if the Lessee fails to deregister the household registration of oneself and of other legal persons or organizations, the owner of the Premises shall be entitled to, in accordance with Article 16 of the Household Registration Law and other relevant provisions, apply to the household registration office or competent authority for deregistration or nullification of such household registration, with proof of nullification of lease.

16. Settlement of doubts on the terms of Contract

- (1) Notwithstanding the terms in this Sample Contract, the rights of the Lessee under the Consumer Protection Act shall not be affected.
- (2) Where any doubts arise from the terms of this Contract, interpretations shall be made in favor of the Lessee, in accordance with the provisions of Paragraph 2, Article 11 of the Consumer Protection Act. Where the Lessee subleases the Premises, the Consumer Protection Act does not apply upon any disputes over the terms of the Contract or the lease, since the Lessee is not using the Premises as the ultimate consumer.
